Faith for Exiles Week 4 (Lent) - Intergenerational relationships

Ephesians 4:1-6, 15-16

If there is any week to celebrate the need for connection it is this week! With many around the world needing to be physically isolated we in the church know that even when we're physically alone we are not alone.

What makes a resilient disciple is they foster relationships across the generations, seeking wisdom from all around them.

I have experienced this deeply in my own life. The church has been a place where I have met people of all different ages and stages and found a common purpose in Jesus and a common goal in the kingdom of God.

With the restrictions of this season, how will we continue to foster relationships across the generations?

It is an incredible challenge.

-Nick

Kids at Church:

For our young people we know that it is vital for their faith formation to join together with the whole church. For the beginning of our service all kids are invited to stay in the church sanctuary.

During our service the Worship Leader will indicate the time for the pre-school & primary school aged children to head into the Conference Room for their activity.

A sign in and out form will be made available each Sunday for families participating in Kids Ministry.

Corona measures updates are:

What was communicated last week continues. Regular hand washing. Staying at home if feeling unwell or have travelled overseas. Avoid greetings that use physical contact. This all remains the same.

Also, for worship we will continue to pause communion, take up the offering differently and from this week we won't be doing morning tea between our services.

We are now encouraging everyone to minimise gatherings in public.

For those who are thinking of staying home we will be putting at least videos of our sermons online.

We hope to put worship music as well but just need to work through the logistics of that. If you search Salisbury Uniting Church you can find us on YouTube and Facebook where the videos will be posted.

Depending on how things progress we may need to pause our on-site services and move our services online for a period of time. In this eventuality we will work towards everything being online and for those who can't access the internet we'll have options of people they can join together with to continue to experience communal worship, teaching and community.

This moment in time is an invitation to continue to love our neighbours. Anxiety is high and yet God remains on the throne. People of faith are invited to walk with confidence and wisdom.

God bless,
-Nick Patselis
